

Mr. Andrew Thuan

Vice President, Cloud Software & Services

Ericsson Singapore, Brunei, Philippines, Pacific Islands & Thailand

Mr. Andrew stands at the forefront of the Ericsson led Networked Society vision and fastest moving technology industry trends: cloud infrastructure, products and services. He has spent the past few years evangelizing an industry-wide shift to provide the Cloud and 5G to both Telco and Enterprise segments and is driving the transformation to position Ericsson as a leader in the private cloud infrastructure and application space, IOT and Innovation incubation areas.

A business oriented, end to end leader with deep tech industry knowledge, Mr. Andrew has championed NFV and Cloud Software & Services to his enterprise and telco customers and numerous clients across South East Asia and Oceania.

Mr. Andrew is recognized for leading and motivating a dedicated team of Cloud Software & Services professionals comprising of over 100 employees focusing on Cloud Core, IT and NFV. He is responsible for creating and transforming the Ericsson Sales, Delivery, and Strategic workforce to bring the Ericsson Cloud Infrastructure and NFV portfolio to market through technology leadership, quality services and innovative commercial offerings in a number of countries. Solutions that are driving the industry-wide transition in private cloud and infrastructure services, 5G and Imagining Possible.

Throughout his two decades of industry experience, Mr. Andrew has built a reputation for developing business strategies, incubating new business models, and building go to market Cloud product and Services, including world first 5G, Orchestration and Cloud initiatives and innovative services.

Embracing the core values of perseverance, professionalism, collaboration and respect, Mr. Andrew is a recognized and celebrated leader within the Ericsson organization. His awards include Ericsson Key Contributor on many occasions amongst others.

Mr. Andrew holds Honors in Electrical Engineering, and a Queen's Commission from Royal Military College, Duntroon. His previous roles include Head Consulting and Systems Integration Malaysia, Sri Lanka, and carried leadership and technologist roles in Motorola, Siemens, Nortel and Marconi. Mr. Andrew is a valued contributor to Cloud Product and Services segment and is a key leader in the new and targeted business areas within Ericsson's Cloud and IT business landscape. He is also an active contributor to the education sector, with an Industry Advisory Role with University Technology Petronas, Malaysia.